Devon Pace -

Second Chances in Sheet Metal

Devon Pace enrolled in Sheet Metal Technology as a high school student but didn't have success the first time around.

Four years later, he ran into a friend and former Bates student who was making a good living in the sheet metal industry.

"I knew I needed to re-enroll," says Devon. "The first time didn't work because I wasn't dedicated. This time, I'm learning a lot and excelling faster than before. I never have to worry about falling behind because my instructor, Steve MacKay, is there to help me."

Devon is on track to graduate with an Associate of Technology degree in 2011.

He plans to join the sheet metal apprenticeship program after graduation.
